3. Acceptable Use

- 3.1 You must use the Services only for lawful purposes and in accordance with these Terms.
- 3.2 You must not: (a) attempt to gain unauthorised access to the Services, systems, networks or data; (b) interfere with or disrupt the integrity, security or performance of the Services; (c) introduce malicious code or use the Services for phishing, fraud or unlawful activity; (d) use the Services to store or transmit material that unlawfully infringes third-party rights; (e) reverse engineer, decompile or copy proprietary elements of the Services except to the extent such restriction is prohibited by law; or (f) access the Services primarily to build, benchmark or assist development of a competing product or service without Senquip's written consent.

4. Service Availability and Changes

4.1 Senquip will use reasonable endeavours to provide the Services reliably, but does not guarantee uninterrupted or error-free availability.

4.2 Availability may be affected by maintenance, updates, internet or telecommunications failures, cloud infrastructure, third-party providers, security events and circumstances outside Senquip's reasonable control.

4.3 Senquip may update, enhance, modify or replace features of the Services as part of normal product development, security maintenance and operation. Senquip will use reasonable endeavours to provide advance notice of a material change that is known to substantially reduce core paid functionality.

4.4 Senquip may temporarily restrict or suspend access where reasonably necessary to protect security, integrity, other users, Senquip systems or to comply with law.

5. Devices, Commands and Customer Systems

5.1 The Services may receive Device Data and may allow authorised users to configure, update or send commands to connected Devices.

5.2 You are responsible for determining who is authorised to control or configure Devices and for the consequences of commands, configurations, scripts or settings initiated by you or your authorised users.

5.3 Network delay, loss of connectivity, device availability and third-party communications services may affect whether or when data or commands are transmitted. The Services must not be relied upon as the sole safety mechanism for machinery, plant or other equipment.

6. Your Data

6.1 "Your Data" means electronic data or information submitted to the Services by you, your authorised users or Devices for which you are responsible, including Device Data.

6.2 As between you and Senquip, you retain ownership of Your Data.

6.3 You grant Senquip a worldwide, non-exclusive licence to host, copy, process, transmit, display and otherwise use Your Data only as reasonably necessary to provide, secure, support, maintain and improve the Services, comply with law, and fulfil Senquip's obligations to you.

6.4 You represent that you have the rights and permissions necessary for Senquip to process Your Data in accordance with these Terms.

6.5 Senquip may create and use aggregated or de-identified information that does not identify you, your users or identifiable individuals for service operation, analytics, security, reliability and product improvement.

7. Data Security and Confidentiality

7.1 Senquip will maintain reasonable administrative, technical and organisational safeguards appropriate to the nature of the Services and data processed.

7.2 Each party must use reasonable care to protect the other's Confidential Information and use it only for purposes connected with the Services or the parties' commercial relationship.

7.3 Confidential Information does not include information that: (a) becomes public other than through breach of an obligation; (b) was lawfully known before disclosure; (c) is lawfully received from a third party without confidentiality obligation; or (d) is independently developed without use of the other party's Confidential Information.

7.4 Confidential Information may be disclosed to employees, contractors, service providers and professional advisers who need access and are subject to appropriate confidentiality obligations, or where disclosure is required by law.

7.5 No internet-connected service can be guaranteed completely secure. Each party remains responsible for security controls within its own systems, accounts, networks and devices.

8. Privacy

8.1 Senquip handles Personal Information in accordance with its current Privacy Policy and applicable privacy law.

8.2 The Privacy Policy forms part of these Terms to the extent applicable to use of the Services. Where these Terms and the Privacy Policy address different subject matter, each applies to its respective subject.

8.3 You are responsible for providing any notices and obtaining any consents required for Personal Information you or your Devices submit to the Services.

8.4 Senquip may use reputable third-party providers for hosting, communications, payment processing, support, security and other functions required to provide the Services. Those providers may process information only as reasonably necessary to provide their contracted services to Senquip.

9. Intellectual Property and Licence

9.1 Senquip and its licensors retain all intellectual property rights in the Services, software, APIs, documentation, interfaces, designs, methods, know-how and related technology.

9.2 Subject to these Terms and payment of applicable fees, Senquip grants you a non-exclusive, non-transferable right during the applicable subscription or service period to access and use the Services for your internal business purposes and to manage authorised Devices and Your Data.

9.3 No ownership of Senquip intellectual property transfers to you.

9.4 If Senquip creates custom deliverables for you, pre-existing Senquip software, libraries, methods, tools, know-how and reusable components remain Senquip property unless expressly agreed otherwise in writing. You receive the rights expressly stated in the applicable written agreement.

9.5 If you provide suggestions or feedback, Senquip may use them without restriction or obligation, provided this does not grant Senquip ownership of Your Data or your Confidential Information.

10. Third-Party Services

10.1 The Services may interoperate with third-party networks, applications, payment services, cloud services or other providers.

10.2 Senquip is not responsible for the availability, acts, omissions or terms of independent third-party services, except to the extent Senquip has expressly accepted responsibility in a written agreement.

10.3 Your use of third-party services may be subject to separate terms between you and the relevant provider.

11. Fees, Billing and Taxes

11.1 Fees and billing arrangements are those stated in the applicable quotation, order confirmation, subscription plan or other written agreement.

11.2 Unless otherwise stated, subscription fees are charged for the applicable billing period and are non-refundable once that period has commenced, except where required by law.

11.3 You are responsible for charges incurred through Services and subscriptions associated with your account, Devices and authorised users in accordance with the applicable plan.

11.4 Senquip may change recurring fees by giving at least 30 days' notice. A fee change takes effect no earlier than the next applicable renewal or billing period after the notice period, unless otherwise agreed.

11.5 Fees exclude applicable taxes, duties and government charges unless expressly stated otherwise. You are responsible for such amounts other than taxes imposed on Senquip's net income.

11.6 If an amount is overdue, Senquip may suspend affected paid Services after reasonable notice, except where the amount is subject to a genuine dispute raised promptly and in good faith.

12. Warranties

12.1 Nothing in these Terms excludes, restricts or modifies a guarantee, warranty, right or remedy that cannot lawfully be excluded, restricted or modified.

12.2 Subject to clause 12.1 and to the maximum extent permitted by law, the Services are provided on an availability basis and Senquip does not warrant that they will be uninterrupted, error-free or suitable for every particular purpose, environment or integration.

12.3 Any service levels or specific performance commitments apply only where expressly stated in a written service level agreement or other written agreement.

13.Limitation of Liability

13.1 Nothing in these Terms limits liability that cannot lawfully be limited.

13.2 To the maximum extent permitted by law, Senquip is not liable for indirect, incidental, special or consequential loss, or for loss of profit, revenue, production, data, business opportunity or anticipated savings arising from or in connection with the Services.

13.3 To the maximum extent permitted by law, Senquip's aggregate liability arising out of or in connection with the Services during any 12-month period is limited to the fees paid to Senquip for the affected Services during the 6 months immediately preceding the event giving rise to the claim.

13.4 Where applicable law permits Senquip to limit a remedy for breach of a statutory guarantee, Senquip's liability is limited, at Senquip's option, to resupplying the affected Services or paying the reasonable cost of having them supplied again.

14.Indemnity

14.1 Each party is responsible for claims, losses and costs arising from its own breach of these Terms, negligence or unlawful conduct.

14.2 You indemnify Senquip against third-party claims arising directly from unlawful content or data supplied by you, or your use of the Services in material breach of clause 3, to the extent caused or contributed to by you.

14.3 An indemnity under these Terms does not apply to the extent a claim, loss or cost was caused by the indemnified party's negligence, breach of contract or unlawful conduct.

15.Suspension and Termination

15.1 You may cancel a subscription in accordance with the applicable subscription plan or written agreement. Unless otherwise stated, cancellation prevents future renewal but does not create a refund for a billing period already commenced.

15.2 Senquip may terminate a paid Service without cause on at least 30 days' written notice and will provide a pro-rata refund of prepaid fees relating to the unused period after termination, unless the termination results from your breach.

15.3 Senquip may suspend or terminate access immediately where reasonably necessary because of a material security risk, unlawful use, or conduct that threatens the Services or other users. For other material breaches, Senquip may terminate if the breach is not remedied within 14 days after written notice where the breach is capable of remedy.

15.4 On termination, all outstanding fees for Services already supplied become due.

15.5 Following termination or expiry, Senquip may delete Your Data after a reasonable retention period, subject to applicable law, backup cycles and any written data-retention commitment. You are responsible for exporting data you wish to retain before termination where export functionality is available.

15.6 Clauses concerning intellectual property, confidentiality, data rights, liability, indemnity, payment and accrued rights survive termination where their nature requires.

16.Force Majeure

16.1 Neither party is liable for delay or failure to perform caused by circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including natural disaster, fire, flood, epidemic or pandemic, war, terrorism, government action, sanctions, industrial action, telecommunications or internet disruption, utility failure, cloud or data-centre outage, or widespread cyber incident not caused by that party's failure to use reasonable security measures.

16.2 This clause does not relieve a User of an obligation to pay fees for Services already supplied.

17.2 Marketing communications will be handled in accordance with applicable law and available communication preferences.

17.3 Notices required under these Terms may be given electronically to the email address associated with the relevant account or to another address notified by a party.

18. General

18.1 The parties are independent contractors. Nothing in these Terms creates a partnership, joint venture, agency, franchise or employment relationship.

18.2 Neither party may assign its material rights or obligations under these Terms without the other's prior written consent, except to an Affiliate or in connection with a merger, acquisition, corporate restructure or sale of substantially all of the relevant business or assets, on written notice.

18.3 If any provision is invalid or unenforceable, it is to be read down to the minimum extent necessary and the remaining provisions continue in effect.

18.4 A failure or delay in exercising a right does not waive that right.

18.5 These Terms and the documents expressly incorporated into them constitute the agreement concerning the Services, subject to the document priority stated at the beginning of these Terms.
